

EUDAT Conference 2018: insights on the programme and new deadlines for contributions and early-bird registration

On 22-25 January 2018, data managers, scientists & research communities, policy-makers, e-Infrastructure initiatives, research infrastructures and ESFRI projects from all over Europe will gather in Porto (Portugal) to attend the next EUDAT Conference entitled "Putting the EOSC vision into practice".

The main topics? The role of infrastructures like EUDAT in the EOSC and EDI landscape, the latest trends in data infrastructure and data management solutions, the impact of the forthcoming GDPR regulation, the EUDAT Collaborative Data Infrastructure (CDI), the EUDAT services...and the best of Porto of course!

Browse the Conference Programme

The overall programme has just been released and counts more than 40 different sessions spread over 4 days. Attend the parallel sessions most relevant to you and get crucial updates on the EOSC, EDI and the future of EUDAT during the plenaries. The impact of the policy framework on EOSC, EUDAT Collaborative Data Infrastructure services, Cross e-Infrastructure collaborations, User Engagement & Training, Demonstrators & Pilots are among the hot topics.
