EUDAT CDI has been hailed as a success due to its coverage of diverse research fields and its role in encouraging cross-disciplinary collaboration, its role in granting recognition to its members as leaders in data management and infrastructure services as well as fostering scientific cooperation between member states.

Its suite of data management services such as B2SAFE, B2DROP, B2SHARE, B2FIND, B2ACCESS and User Training have also been recognised as trusted services that support researchers' day-to-day needs.

Furthermore, EUDAT CDI's own sustainability model has also been put in focus after the establishment as a non-profit limited liability company sustained through yearly fees from CDI members undergoing contractual agreements for at least 10 years.
